

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

To provide an estimation requesting method and system that 5 enable quick estimation requesting and are free of security-related problems. Estimation requesting document form information is stored in advance in a server of a order recipient company that is connected to an Internet. An information desiring person calls an estimation requesting 10 document form from a homepage of the company, inputs prescribed items to the estimation requesting document form, and sending a completed estimation requesting document to the company. In this manner, the information desiring person directly requests the company to make an estimate.